

Kristen Janicki

MS, PAS, Technical Marketing Specialist, BUCKEYE Nutrition

Kristen M. Janicki was born and raised in the suburbs of Chicago where she grew up riding in the hunter ring and eventing. She received her Bachelor of Science degree in Animal Sciences from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign and later attended graduate school at the University of Kentucky, studying under Dr. Laurie Lawrence in the area of Equine Nutrition. Kristen began her career with Mars Horsecare US, Inc. as a performance horse nutritionist in 2010. She now works as part of our marketing team, providing technical nutrition expertise through our customer care line and manages our digital marketing platforms.
